

Senior Account Executive

Where Magazine – Edmonton

About You:

- A strong advocate for your clients
- You value close personal relationships with your customers
- You are prepared to take your career to the next level

The Product:

- WHERE Edmonton, is looking for a Senior Account Executive to represent Edmonton's premier visitor magazine since 1994. Selling opportunities exist both in print and online

About Us:

- Tanner Young Publishing Group is a communications company committed to become the predominant publisher of tourism magazines, social event publications and travel web sites in Alberta.
- We are an Edmonton-based publishing company with deep connections to the tourism industry and a distinguished history of quality publications that serve visitors to Edmonton, as well as service-providers and businesses in and around the Edmonton area.
- We bring together the most professional, dedicated and talented team members sharing an uncompromising belief in providing our clients the highest quality customer service, creative design and factually interesting editorial. By doing the little extras, we strive to set the standard of excellence in our industry.
- We are a family-owned entrepreneurial company. A significant factor in our growth has been the integrity and high ethical standards, which influence our policies and business decisions.
- All business decisions will ensure long-term growth, and not purely short-term gains.
- We are committed to understanding and fulfilling our customer's needs and delivering uncompromised service.
- We foster individual initiative, mutual respect, personal dignity, and an open, participative environment.

The Benefits:

- A competitive salary
- Extensive medical and dental plans
- 2 weeks paid vacation
- A casual, creative, forward thinking environment

The Opportunity:

If this describes you, and your skill set respond in confidence to:

Dean Langille
Operations Manager
Tanner Young Publishing Group

dean@rangelandmedia.com